

SCY Spring Nationals - First Places and Records by Hans van Meeteren

With so many North Carolina swimmers participating in individual events and relays, expectations for new records were high. The table below summarizes how we did. For each category (women individual, men individual, women relays, men relays, and mixed relays) the table shows all of North Carolina's first place swimmers and other than first place swimmers who set a new North Carolina record. First place swimmers may have set a national record (NR) or a North Carolina record (NCR). The other than first place swimmers category also includes split requests. In one case that resulted in a national record.

It is tempting to wonder how North Carolina did compared to the rest of the nation and who the big North Carolina winners are. There are several reasons for arguing that an attempt to answer these questions leads to comparing apples and oranges. When comparing swimmers, quantity and quality are hard to compare.

When comparing North Carolina with the rest of the nation one should consider that many North Carolina swimmers were there to support "our local meet", enjoy this unique experience, and have fun together with their team mates. Nevertheless, let the numbers speak for themselves.

The Olympic hopeful men and women showed some spectacular races, but the qualifiers in Omaha will be their chance to excel as a North Carolina swimmer.

In the Women Individual category Erika Braun scored six first places in all her individual events. Five of these were NCRs and one was a NR. A relay 50 back leadoff produced another NCR. Looking at quality one may ask, not more NRs? For starters someone called Dara Torres is in Erika's way for some of the NRs, but for the 2012 SCY season, on a national level, Erika's 50 free is almost one second faster than anybody else's in her age group and her 100 free is almost four seconds faster. So Erika is the winner in North Carolina's individual category. Sue Walsh is a very close follower with two first places, one NR, and five NCRs. In a future Across the Lanes we will compare their Top Ten point scores and see how that pans out. It is also noteworthy that the women in the 55-59 age group broke 11 NCRs.

In the Men Individual category things are not so clear cut. Ole Larson scored six first places but no NRs or NCRs. Chris Stevenson scored two first places and several second places, good for a total of seven NCRs in a very competitive age group. So Chris is the winner in the individual men's category.

For those of you who like numbers:

- In the individual women category there were 19 first places
- In the individual women category 49 NCRs were swum, of which six were also NRs
- In the individual women category 26 swimmers were responsible for all of the first places and records
- In the individual men category there were 29 first places
- In the individual men category 35 NCRs were swum, of which seven were also NRs
- In the individual men category 26 swimmers were responsible for all of the first places and records
- In the women relay category there were seven first places
- In the women relay category seven NCRs were swum, none of which were NRs
- In the men relay category there were five first places
- In the men relay category four NCRs were swum, none of which were NRs
- In the mixed relay category there were four first places
